S EARCHING FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

IMPORTANT POINTERS TO REMEMBER

- Listen to announcements each day at your high school and check your guidance bulletin board or scholarship information frequently for listings of scholarships and their deadlines.
- Read guidance handouts and mail sent to you by your high school during your senior year. Scholarship information may be included.
- "Zero in" on a couple of colleges/universities where you have been or most likely will be accepted. Write to the Department of Financial Aid at those colleges for information.
- Ask your parents to check with their employers to determine whether or not scholarship assistance for children of employees is available.
- Fraternal organizations to which you, your parents, or grandparents have membership often have scholarship programs. Write directly to their headquarters for information.
- Scholarships may be more prevalent from smaller, lesser known colleges and universities. Consider these schools if they meet your requirements for a quality educational institution.
- Academic scholarships are frequently granted for tuition at private or church-related colleges or universities with demonstration of superior academic achievement.
- Seek out college/university departmental scholarships. These are offered through departments such as: chemistry, physics, music, nursing, etc. Direct correspondence to the Chairman of the Department in which you plan to major, with a copy to the Admissions Office.
- If you are a talented athlete in one of the lesser known sports, and the colleges to which you apply are eligible to offer athletic grant funding, scholarships may be available through the athletic department even if you are not recruited. Write or call the athletic department.
- If you are interested in enlisting in the service following college, you may wish to inquire about a ROTC scholarship or possible appointment to a service academy.
- Read all information that comes with your admissions letter(s). Financial aid information may be included or may follow in a separate mailing. Most financial aid offers are made in the spring.

- Inquire about student loans. Your eligibility will be determined by the college or university you attend. The source of funding may be lending institutions such as: banks, credit unions, and savings and loan associations or direct from the federal government through the college or university.
- Credit by examination can produce the same financial results as scholarships/grants. Advanced Placement Tests, Achievement Tests, and CLEP subject examinations are just a few of the instruments used by colleges/universities for granting credit. Which instruments are used and how many credits you receive for scoring well on these exams depends on each educational institution. Inquire through the admissions office for information specific to the schools you are considering attending.
- Deadlines and awards for many scholarships are not until spring of your senior year. Patience and perseverance are the keys.
- If you would like to access a national database of over 200,000 scholarships, MI-CASHE is probably the best scholarship search for the money. It's administered by the State of Michigan for a fee of $15.

Remember, it is your responsibility to seek out scholarship assistance.

Ask, inquire, write, consider, listen, read, and then start over again.

SCHOLARSHIP PROCESS

HELPFUL HINTS

- Obtain a copy of your high school transcript from the Guidance Office. Make sufficient copies of your transcript to accompany all scholarship applications you plan to submit. Only one copy of your transcript will be made without charge by the high school.
- Get the letter or letters of recommendation needed. Ask permission to make copies to use with other scholarship applications. Do not wait until the last minute to ask people to write these for you.
- Be sure to have plenty of current billfold size photos to include with applications when requested.
- Start looking for scholarship and loan information during your sophomore and junior years of high school. Parents need to complete tax information as soon as possible in order to meet application deadlines.
- Fill in all the application information requested. Use non applicable when information requested does not apply. Incomplete applications are usually not considered.
- Your public library is an excellent source of information on state and private sources of aid. Your financial need is usually considered, but other factors may also be taken into account.
- Many companies, as well as labor unions, have programs to help pay the cost of post secondary education for employees or members (or for their children).
- Check foundations, religious organizations, fraternities or sororities, and town or city clubs. Include community organizations and civic groups such as the American Legion, YMCA, 4-H Clubs, Kiwanis, Jaycees, Chamber of Commerce, and the Girl or boy Scouts.
- National Honor Society and National Merit scholarships are available if you have high grades and you qualify.
- Don't overlook aid from organizations connected with your field of interest.
- Type or print legibly. Applications may be disregarded if illegible

SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS

SUGGESTIONS FOR COMPLETION

- Remember! Your scholarship application represents YOU.
- Give your application the time, attention, and preparation that you and it deserve.
- Read and follow the instructions carefully.
- Type or print neatly.
- Proofread your work--especially your essay--if one is requested. Check the spelling. Check the grammar. You may even wish to ask a friend/teacher to proofread your completed application.
- Be honest and be yourself.
- If you are asked to talk about yourself, don't be afraid to highlight your strengths. Be truthful without being boastful.
- Make certain the persons you ask to prepare letters of recommendation know you well.
- Watch deadlines - financial aid offices and scholarship personnel adhere to them!
- Remember, you are responsible for making sure that all parts of the application arrive on time. If letters of recommendation or transcripts are required, give the persons who will provide these generous lead time. Also give them a stamped, addressed envelope if the recommendation is to be mailed separately.
- Make a copy of the application for your file.
- Finally - keep a written record of scholarships for which you applied. Make a note of the deadlines, requirements, and responses.
- Answer all correspondence promptly. Failure to meet a deadline may eliminate you from consideration.

ANGUS C. McDONALD MEMORIAL FUND

Angus C. McDonald 1865-1944

LOANS FOR EDUCATIONAL PURPOSES

TRUST DEPARTMENT
FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF WARSAW
P.O. BOX 1447
WARSAW, INDIANA 46581-1447

ANGUS C. McDONALD

The youth of this area are indeed fortunate that Angus C. McDonald, a young Scottish doctor, chose Warsaw as his home. Although no one realized it, the first step had been taken toward the creation of a memorial trust fund to assist worthy, needy students, residing in Kosciusko County, to acquire a college education.

Dr. McDonald was born on Prince Edward Island in Canada. After graduating from the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine in 1892, he came to Warsaw. During a long career in this community, he acquired a reputation not only as an outstanding physician but also as a citizen keenly interested in the civic welfare of his adopted community.

Dr. McDonald's vision and ability enriched and improved the Warsaw community during his lifetime and after his death. Dr. McDonald established the first hospital in Warsaw, and was the first Warsaw physician to acquire an automobile to use in his profession. He was one of the founders, and the first president, of the Baker Boys' Club, a local boys' organization which continues to be strong and active.

The Memorial Fund, created by Dr. Angus C. McDonald, was established to enable worthy and needy Kosciusko County students to obtain a college or professional education. Students applying for loans must be enrolled and in good standing or have been accepted for enrollment at an eligible school. Most public and private institutions meet the eligibility requirements.

Selection Criteria

In determining the recipients of these loans, the Superintendent of the Warsaw Community Schools will consider prior academic performance, recommendations regarding the applicant's capabilities and character and a personal interview to determine the motivation of the potential recipient.

Interest Costs

Loans are interest free while the recipient is in school and four months thereafter. However, all loans are interest-bearing during the repayment period.

Repayment Period

Repayment begins five months after the recipient completes his course of study or leaves school, and is normally scheduled from five to ten years. Minimum monthly payments are $50.

Prepayment

Recipients are urged and encouraged to repay loans as soon as possible. If loans are paid during grace period, recipient will incur no interest charge.

Deferral of Principal Repayments

Deferrals of principal repayments are allowed up to three years for military service. Payment may also be deferred during any period that the student returns to school on a full time basis. The student is encouraged, however, to make payments during such periods.

Where to Apply

Applications for all loans are made to the Superintendent of the Warsaw Community Schools, Warsaw, Indiana.

Student Responsibility

This loan may be used only for educational purposes. Recipients of loans are obligated to furnish the Trust Department, First National Bank of Warsaw, with evidence that funds were used exclusively for educational purposes. After graduation, interruption or discontinuance of study, the recipients of loans have four months to contact the Trust Department and arrange for repayment. The recipients are under obligation to repay Memorial Fund Loans. Since this will probably be his or her first experience with credit, the importance of the manner in which this obligation is paid cannot be over emphasized. Recipients are under an obligation to keep the Trust Department of First National Bank of Warsaw advised of their present address and employment circumstances at all appropriate times subsequent to the loan. After loans are made to recipients, all correspondence relating to them should be directed to the Trust Department, First National Bank of Warsaw, P.O. Box 1447, Warsaw, Indiana 46581-1447.

Cosign

Under normal circumstances parents or custodial parents will be expected to cosign the student loan.
